Mrs. Howard Hartzell, first vice president and a past president of the Albert J. Lentz Post Auxiliary of the American Legion, was elected first vice president of the four-county council at a meeting Thursday in Waynesboro.

At the same session, the Lentz Auxiliary and the Auxiliary of the Dorsey-Stanton post here received cash awards for having the greatest percentage of increase in membership over last year of any units in York, Adams, Franklin and Fulton counties.

Other officers elected by the four-county council follow: president, Mrs. Warren Runkle, Hanover; second vice president, Mrs. Kenneth Pryor, Waynesboro; secretary, Mrs. Phoebe Bowers, Chambersburg; treasurer, Mrs. Marvin Kuntz, Daltown; chaplain, Mrs. John Woodcock, Saint Thomas; historian, Mrs. James Fager, Littlestown; and sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. C. E. Saltz-giver, York.

Eight Counties Represented

Legion women of eight counties gathered for the Waynesboro meeting but the two four-county councils held separate business meetings in the morning. Mrs. Walter Metz, Chambersburg, presided over the council of which Adams county units are members. Mrs. John Woodcock reported as chairman of the scholarship fund and Mrs. Kenneth Sload, district director, made the membership gain awards and also gave the Fort Loudoun unit a prize in the coupon contest.

A noon luncheon was held at the Anthony Wayne hotel with Mrs. Sload as toastmaster. Mrs. D. A. Krumrine, State College, was the principal speaker. Other guests who spoke included Mrs. Howard McCahey, Media, department chairman of membership; Mrs. A. L. Westbrook, Hanington, Americanism chairman; Jerry Allen, Scotland school superintendent, and Mrs. Leon Smith, Waynesboro, central vice president.

Mrs. Pryor, Waynesboro president, presented $100 to Mrs. Krumrine as a gift of the eight-county unit to the department project for the year—providing a sunroom for the Veterans' hospital at Lebanon.

The next meeting of the four-county council will be held in October in Hanover.

DEGREES FOR 3 DAUGHTERS

Thomas C. McSherry, Littlestown, is probably Adams county's busiest commencement attendant this year—three of his daughters are receiving degrees in three different institutions.

The local representative of the Internal Revenue department has one daughter, Miss Mary Frances McSherry, now Sister Frances of the Sisters of Charity, receiving her master's degree at Boston college.

Another, Miss Rita Marie McSherry, gets her science degree from Catholic University, Washington, D. C., and the third, Miss Bobby Jean McSherry, secures a diploma from Mt. St. Agnes college, Baltimore.

Sister Frances is a graduate of St. Joseph's high school and college at Emmitsburg and received her master's degree Sunday. The degree is in child welfare and she will instruct at Labour Nursery school, Boston, this summer.

Rita Marie graduated from St. Joseph's college high school at Emmitsburg and completes a five-year course in Catholic University's Providence Division school of nursing on June 8, when she will receive a bachelor of science degree. She passed the state boards to receive her registered nurse authorization in April at Washington and has accepted a post as a head nurse at Seton Institute, Baltimore.

Bobby Jean is a graduate of Delone high school, McSherrystown, and will receive a bachelor's degree in associated arts from Mt. St. Agnes this week. She plans to continue postgraduate studies there in science for the next two years.

COUNTY SCOUTS TAKE PART IN YORK "CIRCUS"

Three thousand Boy Scouts, Senior Scouts and Cub Scouts, including about 300 from Adams county, took part Thursday night in the "Wally-Ga-Zhu" held by the York-Adams Boy Scout council at the York Fair grounds.

Gettysburg's Catholic troop took part in a precision tumbling drill and the Christ Lutheran-Methodist troop demonstrated bridge building. The Biglerville, Gettysburg and McSherrystown Cub packs were among those presenting Cub games.

York Springs troop participated in a first aid demonstration and the New Oxford Protestant troop and the Conewago Chapel Scouts took part in a games event. The New Oxford Catholic troop was a participant in first aid events, while the McSherrystown troop provided the stretcher bearers. The Protective troop demonstrated whip cracking and rope spinning. The Idaville-Gardners, Orrtanna, Biglerville and St. James' troops all took part in games events.

Shows Scout Activities
The circus put on by the scouts included such things as a Noah's ark, in which the county's Cub packs participated, clown acts, first aid demonstrations, a "rescue" of "mates in distress" by a breeches buoy and similar activities.

Concluding the show was the pioneering event in which rustic towers, stockades, bridges, Indian tepees and tents were set up. The show was designed to depict the various activities of scouting as part of the 40th anniversary program of Boy Scouting being held this year.

Pay Fines, Costs On Code Charges

George Reed, Hanover R. 3, who has since moved to a Thomasville R. D. address, paid a fine of $10 and costs to Justice of the Peace Gerald L. Orndorff, New Oxford, on a charge of failing to yield the right of way.

State police of the Gettysburg substation, who filed the charge, said Reed was involved in an accident May 25 near the Bethlehem quarries on the Hanover-Cross Keys road.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

There will be a meeting of the Memorial Day committee in the office of William L. Meals at 8:30 tonight.

EPISCOPALIANS WILL USE OLD BOOK OF PRAYER

The Holy Communion services at Prince of Peace Episcopal church Sunday morning at 8 and 10:45 o'clock will be celebrated according to the Book of Prayer adopted by the Anglican church in 1549.

Permission to hold the service according to the older form was granted by the Episcopal Bishop of Harrisburg as part of the observance of the 400th anniversary of the Book of Common Prayer, the Rev. Willis R. Doyle said.

Episcopal churches throughout the world are celebrating the anniversary on Sunday, the feast of Pentecost, commonly called Whitsunday, he added. Copies of the 1549 service will be in the pews at the church Sunday so the congregation will be able to follow the service.

Two American Revisions

The 1549 book, sometimes called the First Prayer Book of Edward VI, was largely a translation from Latin of the Sarum Liturgy then in use in England, with some adaptations from Gallican and Eastern rites, plus a few minor concessions to the Puritans who were Calvinist in their thinking. All Anglican prayer books since that time have been variations of the original.

The 13 national churches which comprise the Anglican communion throughout the world largely have their own prayer books, the Rev. Mr. Doyle pointed out. Each church has the power to revise its own books to meet local conditions, providing the changes do not depart from essentials of doctrine, discipline or worship as held by the entire group of national churches.

The first American Prayer Book, written in 1789, has been twice revised, once in 1892 and again in 1928. The original followed the present prayer book of the Church of England, but with large modifications.

SR. EXTENSION UNIT LAYS PLANS

A program for the club year starting with June was formulated at a meeting of the program committee of the Adams County Senior Extension club held Thursday evening in the court house here. Assisting the committee were Ira Dunmire, assistant county agent, and C. P. Lang, supervisor of the state extension club program.

"Community Service," was chosen as the theme for the educational program of the club for the forthcoming year. Discussions centering on this theme will be held and consequent projects undertaken. Recommended was the setting up of a contest involving farm or home improvement projects.

The program set includes: June, discussion on community service; July, talk on the rural church and a picnic, including softball and swimming; September, heart night and ice skating at Hershey; November, hobby and amateur night; December, Christmas party; January, talks on "New Ideas in Farming" by M. T. Hartman, county agent, and "New Ideas in Homemaking" by Miss Mary Jane Mickey, county economics head; February, drama night, presentation of one-act plays, and box social and Valentine party; March, annual club banquet; April, homestead improvement; and May, folk festival and election of officers.

This is not the complete year's program. It may be supplemented by additional educational or recreational meetings at the discretion of the club as a whole.

Members on the committee included: Dale Stock, president; Kathryn Bucher, secretary; Robert Mansberger, Treva Crouse, Harry Hoffman, vice president, and Roland Kime.

Growers Report Bountiful Harvest Of Fruit; Damage From Hail, Frost, Light

Adams county this year should harvest one of the largest fruit crops in many years.

That estimate, surrounded by the usual necessary "hedges" against the weather, was the summation of reports made by growers at Thursday evening's meeting of the Adams County Fruit Growers association, in Biglerville.

The consensus of reports showed the apple crop to be better than fair and the cherries equally good.

There were variations, however, with some growers reporting some light crops, but the overall picture was one of a bountiful harvest. One grower even mentioned the possibility of securing "75 per cent of a crop." It marked the first time in years that a figure that high has been mentioned in fruit growers' meetings.

Some Hail Damage

Hail caused some damage to the fruit, but most of the orchardists escaped the hail, or felt that the damage would not be too great. There was some frost injury, but the reports showed that it was slight in most orchards.

With the prospect of a large fruit crop, growers considered the problem of disposing of the fruit. Frederick E. Griest, Flora Dale, urged the orchardists to increase their support of the Appalachian Apple service.

He reported on a meeting at Martinsburg, W. Va., recently at which

THREE ENLIST IN U.S. AIR FORCE

Three Adams county youths were accepted for three years of service in the air force and were sent to Lackman Air Base, Texas, on Thursday. It was announced today by Sgt. Frank Wolf of the local army recruiting office at the post office.

Those entering the service are Joseph R. Redding, 334 South Washington street; Earl P. Herring, Fairfield R. 2; and Harry P. Shaner, 55 East Stevens street.

A program to interest high school graduates in enlisting in the U.S. Army or U.S. Air Force will get under way soon, Sgt. Wolf said here today. "High school graduates," he explained, "are an excellent source of the high-type, intelligent young men and women the services are looking for today." He added that the two services can now accept only a limited number of volunteers and standards are high.

The two services operate more than 200 technical training courses. Under new career guidance plans, progress is being made toward placing enlistees in jobs for which they are best suited and in which they can progress farthest.

"The United States Armed Forces Institute," Sgt. Wolf said, "gives high school graduates the chance to continue their education on the college level by studying off-duty hours. Most colleges and universities grant credits for these courses."

Fourteen Prisoners Flee 'Escape Proof' W. Virginia Penitentiary

Moundsville, W. Va., June 3 (AP)—Fourteen prisoners sawed and slugged their way out of the supposedly "escape proof" south half of the state penitentiary here today.

It was West Virginia's biggest mass prison break in at least 35 years.

Six of the escapees were serving life terms, and six of them were in solitary confinement.

The escaping prisoners left behind them a bleeding guard they had slugged and tossed into one of the vacated cells. He was identified as Jackie James, prominent as a baseball umpire in the Wheeling area.

The guard's station telephone was taken off its hook. When he failed to report at 2 a. m. (EST) and the central desk found his line continuously busy, an investigation was started.

Warden Orel J. Skeen said the break was discovered within a few minutes and that roadblocks were being set up within 30 minutes after the men crawled through a window onto Jefferson avenue.

A skiff moored to the West Virginia bank of the Ohio river was stolen, giving rise to the belief the escapees may have crossed into Ohio. State police also received reports of a stolen automobile at suburban Glendale. It was found abandoned in Wheeling, 10 miles away, but near the spot another parked car had been stolen, leading officials to believe the men had scattered.

The section from which the men escaped contains the death house and the solitary, supposedly escape-proof cells.

A 15th cell was sawed or jimmied open, prison officials said, but the men confined there did not join the others. Bars of six of the individual cells were reported cut with a home-made drill saw, while the remaining nine cells were jimmied open by those who already had gotten outside.

Fire early this afternoon is reported to have destroyed the Stough Motors company garage on the Lincolnway West in New Oxford. First reports of the blaze said no one was injured but that the interior of the garage was destroyed.

Now Oxford firemen were called to the blaze shortly after 1 o'clock.

HISS WITNESS ADMITS LYING, BOOK THEFTS

New York, June 3 (AP)—A cross-examining lawyer drew from ex-Communist Whitaker Chambers yesterday an acknowledgment that he once lied to get a federal job and that he lost another job after being accused of stealing.

Chambers, the government's key witness in the perjury trial of former State Department official Alger Hiss, returns to the witness stand today for further cross-examination by defense counsel.

The defense began its rapid-fire questioning yesterday after the stocky, soft-spoken Chambers unfolded in federal court a story of a prewar Soviet spy ring which he said was fed government secrets by Hiss.

The 44-year-old Hiss, who sat calmly beside his wife, Priscilla, during Chambers' testimony, is accused of lying when he denied before a federal grand jury that he ever gave confidential documents to Chambers.

Admits Perjury

Hitting at Chambers' reliability, Defense Counsel Lloyd Paul Stryker drew from him the admission that he committed perjury in 1937 when he took an oath of office for a job with the Works Progress Administration.

Chambers said he swore to support the constitution although he was a Communist dedicated to "help overthrow our country by force."

"It was perjury wasn't it?" asked Stryker.

"It was," said Chambers.

Probing into the background of the witness, who claims he was a courier for the spy ring, Stryker asked him if he was ever "kicked out" of Columbia university.

Chambers said he left the university because of a "very just criticism" of a play he wrote for a campus magazine. He said it was "highly offensive" in its treatment of Christ.

Admits Stealing Books

Stryker said that Chambers, in making application for the federal job, deliberately left out mention of a job he once held at the New York Public library.

"Were you charged in the New York Public library for stealing books?" Stryker asked.

"Yes," said Chambers, "but not from the library."

"Were you dismissed from the library after the charge was made?"

A. "Yes, I had some Columbia university books."

Chambers said detectives came to his home and found there 25 or 30 books which he had taken from the Columbia university library.

growers for the election of a trustee at Pennsylvania State college.

The disease and insect situation were discussed by Dr. R. S. Kirby and J. O. Pepper, of the State College extension staff. Kirby said that Adams county growers are "still doing an excellent job of spraying" and added that there is not as much scab in county orchards as in other counties. He noted that the foliage now "is the best I have ever seen" and added that "many of you have an extremely heavy load of sulphur on your leaves."

Because of the possibility of damage from sulphur in high temperatures, growers should consider whether they should add more sulphur in forthcoming sprays, or whether they should use a Bordeaux or other material, Kirby said. He noted that formalin has been doing an excellent job under many circumstances of taking care of apple diseases. Apples sprayed with formalin also have a good finish, he noted.

While the disease situation appears to be fairly well under control in many orchards at the present time, "there appears to be a terrific build up of leaf curl in unsprayed trees. The conditions seem to be approximately those of 15 years ago, and if that holds true there will be a bad situation next year if we don't get in an early spray."

Pepper pointed out that there is some trouble from red banded leaf roller, but noted that it cannot be combated until the next group of adults emerge the latter part of June or early July.

June 30 was set as the tentative date for the next meeting of the association. President Harry S. Stoner presided with about 200 present.

News Briefs

Miami, Fla., June 3 (AP)—The steamship flagship Sino was in danger of sinking 100 miles east of Jacksonville today with 12 feet of water in the engine room.

"Water still gaining," the vessel reported. Radio stations along the Eastern Seaboard fell silent while urgent distress messages filled the air.

Washington, June 3 (AP)—Air Secretary Symington flatly denied today reports relayed to the House by Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) in criticism of the B-36 bomber buying program. He said one phase of the Congressmen's speech: "The report is a lie."

Washington, June 3 (AP)—The military establishment has resigned its controversial "Directive No. 1" which reminded all armed forces officials of security regulations in connection with public speeches or interviews. The order had been interpreted in some quarters as a "gas" rule to prevent officials of the armed forces from freely expressing their individual views.

New York, June 3 (AP)—A Communist conspiracy trial defendant was found in contempt of court today and ordered held in jail 30 days unless he purges himself of contempt. Federal Judge Harold R. Medina ordered John W. Gates jailed after the 35-year-old editor of the Communist Daily Worker had refused to say who helped him prepare a Communist party publication.

Washington, June 3 (AP)—U. S. radio stations have won their eight-year fight for the right to express their own opinions on public issues over the air.

It is something they have been restrained from doing since 1941, when the federal communications commission—which holds life and death power over radio stations through control of their operating licenses—said that broadcasting stations could not "editorialize" or "advocate" anything.

Berlin, June 3 (AP)—The four military commanders of Berlin met today their first business session in 50 weeks. The crippling rail strike brought them together. The meeting was held at French military government headquarters and Brig. Gen. Jean Ganeval, French commandant, presided. Soviet Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, who requested the session, was the last to arrive.

Paris, June 3 (AP)—Russia and the west were reported ready today to compromise on a "little peace treaty" for Berlin.

The basis of today's discussions at the four-power foreign ministers conference (9 a. m. EST) will be the American plan submitted yesterday by Secretary of State Dean Acheson and backed by both the British and French.

Barcelona, Spain, June 3 (AP)—The second bomb in 48 hours exploded here today during Generalissimo Francisco Franco's visit to this Catalonian capital. No one was injured in either explosion.

MILITARY WIVES GET 'CEASE FIRE'

Washington, June 3 (AP)—A congressman said today that army and navy wives have received a "cease fire" order from Secretary of Defense Johnson on their Capitol Hill campaign to push the military pay bill.

Rep. Sutton (D-Tenn.) told reporters word has been passed from Johnson's office, quietly but firmly, for the ladies to stop calling on congressmen. Sutton said he heard of the order from a friend stationed at the Pentagon.

"I only hope they haven't killed the bill," Sutton said. "I want to see a pay bill passed."

Sutton led a House group of World War II veterans who contended the bill should give larger increases to enlisted men and junior officers, and smaller ones to top ranking officers.

The ex-GI attempted to scale down the raises for the high brass proposed in the original bill. When they failed they sparked a successful move to recommit the bill to the House armed services committee for further study.

Flying squads of military wives visited the capitol Wednesday, concentrating on House members who voted to send the bill back to committee.

Moul To Workout With Parent Team

Left "Bill" Moul, former East Berlin high star hurler, will be given a tryout by the St. Louis Browns when that team comes to Washington on June 14 for a three-game series.

Moul worked out last Saturday with the Baltimore Orioles under the sponsorship of the Browns and was told to report to Washington when the parent club is there in June.

If he impresses with his hurling he is expected to be assigned to a minor league farm team. Moul hurled Hanover to a victory in the Adams County league on Memorial Day.

Ligonier Council, Theaters Sit Tight

Ligonier, Pa., June 3 (AP)—Borough council was sitting tight today and so were the owners of Ligonier's two theaters.

The council last night received a petition from 96 citizens of this summer resort town, population about 2,500 asking that a 10 per cent tax on theater admissions be revoked.

Council took no action.

The two movie houses—the Ligonier and the Vox—have been boarded up since midnight May 31. Owners say they won't reopen until the tax is repealed.

Across the front of the Ligonier, a $100,000 theater erected 10 years ago, streamed a banner: "We are closed to protest discriminatory taxes on the theater-going public."

Committee Report On Pact Delayed

Washington, June 3 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations committee, trying for unanimous approval of a report on the Atlantic Pact, was snagged today by one member's objections.

Senator George (D-Ga.) said yesterday he could not support the report now in the committee's hands. Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) had called it "an able and splendid report."

The group will meet again Monday to try to settle the conflict, so the report can be sent to the Senate along with the pact.

The bi-partisan group is usually unanimous in its actions. It is certain a strong effort will be made to produce a report carrying the committee's full approval. The preliminary draft was prepared by the committee staff and undoubtedly will undergo some change before it reaches its final form.

'Able And Willing' Clause Faces Fight

Bluefield, W. Va., June 3 (AP)—Southern coal operators were expected to fight the "able and willing" to work clause in any new contract.

The provision has been in all United Mine Workers contracts since the war. Lewis has used it sometimes during strikes, pointing to it as justification for the walkout of 400,000 soft coal diggers. It first made its appearance in contracts covering the 80,000 eastern Pennsylvania hard coal miners.

The Southern Coal Producers association never liked the provision, and President Joseph E. Moody was reported as ready to demand it be dropped from future contracts.

Negotiation of a new contract begins today. Negotiating committees of eight miners and eight operators were scheduled to start this morning behind closed doors.

Say Eberharter Was Drunk, Noisy

Washington, June 3 (AP)—Four witnesses pointed out Rep. Eberharter (D-Pa.) today as a man who was drunk, disorderly and used "vile and indecent" language aboard a Pennsylvania Railroad train four years ago.

They testified at a hearing on Eberharter's nomination by President Truman to be a U. S. district judge in western Pennsylvania.

They told a Senate Judiciary subcommittee that Eberharter was taken from the train at Newark, N. J., and put under arrest after he tried to pick a fight with five soldiers, three policemen and the assistant station master.

Two of the witnesses were former Pennsylvania railroad policemen, a third is still a railroad patrolman, and the fourth was the assistant station master at the Newark station.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

The Williamsport Tigers, who were caged in the Eastern league cellar for several weeks, stalked first division today.

Gene Desautels' Baby Bengals, behind Ace Curver Ted Kapuscinski, sprang from seventh into sixth place last night with a 5-4 decision over the Scranton Red Sox. The win was the Tigers' seventh in nine starts.

It left their half-a-game behind Elmira's fourth-place Pioneers. The Cars are six games behind Wilkes-Barre and Albany, co-tenants of first place.

Albany and Wilkes-Barre divided doubleheaders. The Senators beat Binghamton, 3-2, as old Ori Arntzen elbowed his eighth straight win, and the trips came back to win.

4-4. Wilkes-Barre thumped Elmira, 10-4, but surrendered to Southpaw Hal Hudson, 3-2, in the second game.

Dick Donovan pitched an eight-inning and slugged two triples and a single in Hartford's 9-3 win at Utica.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 3 (AP)—That path you can see leading to Hackensack, N. J., was worn by major league scouts going to watch Stan Pitula pitch for Hackensack high school.

... Stan just won 10 games this season, making it 16 straight for two years, but seven were shutouts and two were no-hitters. ... Three errors marred those no-hit games, one seven and one nine innings, but he didn't walk a man in either. ... Stan also missed a perfect game against Ridgewood when the first man scratched a single and he retired the next 21. ... For the season, Pitula's record shows 18 hits, 12 walks, 143 strikeouts and four runs, all unearned, in 72 innings. He also is the best hitter on the team. ... Anybody got a high school star who can beat that?

ALL BURNED UP

This dispute probably will have to go to Happy Chandler for a ruling, though it is now being debated in softball league. ... Seems the Somerville, Mass., firemen's team was to meet Malden at 10 a. m. one day this spring. ... At 8:14 a fire alarm was sounded. At 8:23 there was an 'o'ber and at 10:45 the multiple alarm sign was flashed. ... Naturally the fire ladders didn't show up at the ball field. The umpire waited a half hour, then ordered the game forfeited to Malden. ... League officials, on a close vote, upheld the ump, but the fire chief and the mayor of Somerville are protesting that the game should be rescheduled.

CLEANING THE CUFF

Lester Patrick, who now owns the Victoria franchise in the Pacific Coast Hockey league, says he doesn't know what he's going to do with it. Les apparently isn't happy in his semi-retired status as vice president of Madison Square Garden, but he doesn't want to fiddle around with a club where there isn't the seating capacity to pay expenses. ... An other "retired" sports figure, Al Autstun, who sold the Cleveland arena, still retains a lively interest in the John Carroll basketball team.

(By The Associated Press)

After losing two straight to the Allentown Cardinals, the first-place Wilmington Blue Rocks came back last night to dump the Red Birds 10-5.

Jack Brittin, Wilmington right-hander, received credit for his fifth victory against no defeats, spacing out seven hits. The win widened Wilmington's lead over the second-place Trenton Giants to two games. Trenton, victorious over Lancaster in its last two starts, was trounced last night 21-2, as the Red Roses banged out 15 hits and scored in every inning except the seventh.

The fifth-place Harrisburg Senators scored four times in the seventh inning to defeat the sixth place Hagerstown Owls 6-3. Leftfielder Bob Lemon led the Harrisburg attack with a pair of homers, bringing his total to six for the season. Left-hander Paul Bain scattered eight hits as the Sunbury Reds turned back the York White Roses 2-1. Playing Manager Joe Buzas homered with no one on base in the Sunbury half of the second.

WOODCOCK KO'S FREDDIE MILLS

London, June 3 (AP)—Bruce Woodcock, a fugitive from ring oblivion, is being hailed today as a worthy foe for American Lee Savold in their September 6 bout which Britain, at least, terms a world heavyweight championship affair.

Woodcock retained his British empire and European heavyweight titles last night at White City stadium by knocking out World Light-heavyweight King Freddie Mills, also of England, in the 14th round.

That earned him a shot at Savold. Promoter Jack Solomon is advertising the fight as being for Joe Louis' vacated title.

Last night's attraction, scheduled for 15 rounds, was witnessed by 46,000 fans who paid $280,000. Each fighter received $56,000.

The underdog in the betting and scorned by most boxing experts, Woodcock had been virtually written off when his jaw was fractured two years ago by Joe Baksi of Kulp-mont, Pa.

PHILLIES SLAM FIVE HOMERS IN SINGLE INNING

By JACK HAND

(AP Sports Writer)

Hail the fighting Phillies—new fence-busting champs of baseball.

Five home runs in a smashing eighth-inning rally last night put the 1949 Phils in the record book alongside the 1939 New York Giants. No more futile Phils.

Only once before in modern baseball has a team hit five homers in one inning. The Giants did it 10 years ago at the Polo Grounds after two were out. In both cases, Cincinnati was the victim.

It was June 6, 1939 when the Giants unloaded their thunder on the pennant-bound Reds. They won 17-3. Andy Seminick, who nicked Cincinnati pitching for three homers last evening, made the Phils' feat distinct because he hammered two in the same inning. That tied a major league mark shared by several players. The last time it was done was by Joe DiMaggio, June 24, 1936.

Del Ennis' homer started the big inning, which opened with Ken Raffensberger enjoying a 3-2 lead. Seminick came next. Before it was over 10 runs were home and Puddin' Head Jones, Schoolboy Rowe and Seminick again had hit the ball out of the park. Seminick's second of the inning came with two on.

In addition to the homers, Jones just missed the second time around with a triple and Gran Hamner's double also crashed against the wall, a few feet short of going into the stands.

Raffensberger went into the game with a string of 18 successive scoreless innings. He left in the midst of the eighth with a dazed expression. The final score was Philadelphia 12, Cincinnati 3.

Counting Seminick's earlier homer, the Phils had six for the night. Only one short of the National league record. In fact it was a new high for a night game, if that means anything. The best previous under the lights was five by the Giants, twice in 1947 and once last year.

Warren Spahn boosted the Boston Braves' National league lead to two full games by defeating Pittsburgh, 4-1, while both the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers lost.

Brooklyn's Don Newcombe blew a 4-1 lead in the ninth and the Dodgers finally succumbed to the St. Louis Cardinals in the 14th, 7-4, on Stan Musial's two-run triple and Chuck Diering's double.

Dutch Leonard silenced the powerful Giants with three singles in Chicago's 3-0 victory over Sheldon Jones. The veteran knuckler had a one-hitter until the eighth.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

High School Commencement: An interesting and well-rendered page depicting the origin of the free public school system in Pennsylvania one hundred years ago featured commencement exercises for a class of 77 seniors at Gettysburg high school on Thursday evening.

The material, furnished by the department of public instruction, was changed and enlarged by the English department of the high school, headed by Miss Ruth McIlhenry.

In the development of part 3, Dr. M. Hadwin Fischer was the principal speaker. Professor Guile Lefever announced the prize winners and read the class roll. Diplomats were presented by Professor L. C. Keefe. Dr. W. C. Waltemyer pronounced the benediction.

Impressive Services Held On Sunday: At the most colorful and impressive service ever held in St. Francis Xavier's Catholic church, and touching with all the pomp and splendor permitted within the walls of a parish edifice, not a cathedral, the Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, pastor of the local church for the past thirteen years, observed the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood Sunday morning.

Bishop McDevitt and seventeen guest prelates marched in procession from the rectory to the church, accompanied by 18 acolytes, between two lines of Fourth degree Knights of Columbus, with drawn sabres.

Father Stock was the celebrant, the Rev. Father Henry Crist was the deacon and the Rev. Dr. Joseph J. McAndrew was the sub-deacon. The Rt. Rev. Monsignor John J. Tierney delivered the sermon.

The Rev. Dr. Gallagher read a pronouncement from Bishop McDevitt, in which he granted an indulgence of fifty days to each person present at the mass. Bishop McDevitt pronounced the blessing.

Grade Pupils Are Promoted: An entertaining operetta, "Prince of Peddlers," was editably presented before a capacity audience at the high school auditorium Friday evening, as the feature of promotion exercises for 74 members of the eighth grade at the Lincoln school. Miss Dorothy Brindle directed the performance.

Paul R. Mehring, principal, presided at the exercises. The invocation was given by Dr. W. C. Waltemyer. Dr. A. R. Wentz was the principal speaker.

Leading roles in the operetta were taken by Betty Shearer, William Waltemyer, Lyla Mary Smith, Kenneth Small, John Baby, John McClellan, Jean Ziegler, Robert Dear-dorff, Frederick Wentz, William Rice, Betty Frazer and Katherine Bertram.

The Edward McPherson prizes were awarded to Frederick Wentz, William Waltemyer, Dorothy Dunkelberger and Rosanna Cromer. Dorothy Dunkelberger and Lyla Mary Smith received the American Legion auxiliary awards.

Promotion certificates were presented by Prof. L. C. Keefe.

Large Crowd Hears Chief Executive: Franklin D. Roosevelt, 32nd president of the United States, gave the Memorial address here on Wednesday afternoon, before a large crowd in the Gettysburg National cemetery.

Governor Gifford Pinchot introduced President Roosevelt at the rostrum and Congressman Harry L. Haines acted as master of ceremonies.

Thirty-six United States army airplanes, 18 bombers and 18 pursuit ships, from Langley field, Virginia, formed an aerial escort overhead for the marchers in the parade, and later engaged in a series of war-time maneuvers.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
CONVENTIONALITIES

I wonder why it is we are such slaves to conventionalities? Why aren't we more ourselves all the time? Nothing is more attractive and appealing than an unfettered personality that both shines and inspires.

Bound by too many conventions we become restricted and oftentimes afraid to express ourselves in a natural manner. Be yourself and people will want to know more about you. Too many people try to be someone else and usually they are a failure at it.

Often I take long journeys and the urge comes to talk with strangers, but why should anyone be a stranger to us? Once the ice is broken, as the saying goes, we have a potential friend in our grasp. On many a trip I have gained such a friend and I think of how much I would have missed had I not started a conversation.

Why do we always think we should "be introduced?" Why can't we introduce ourselves? We go further by always being our natural selves. I have been impressed with the idea of friendliness among people on a ship at sea, or on a train over a long route. People drop so many conventionalities, being their human selves more. This is as it should be. People in a strange land, and often alone, grow hungry for companionship and good talk.

When you break down a barrier you get free air and feel happy. The honest intent of a person is what counts most. At heart we are all friends in a world of very confused ideas. We need to learn more about others and to understand them better. Too many of us are self-conscious.

By being ourselves we invite others to be the same. This cements the kinship that we have with them. We all overlook so much in the friendly person, the person who is honestly natural and open-hearted. Conventions then melt away. And there is a friendly rainbow in the sky!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Being on Time."

Just Folks

MAN'S VARIOUS ROLES
If "All the world's a stage," then man has many roles to play. With which to do the best he can until his final day.

The lines that he will learn to speak
Both sad and gay will be,
And wise or foolish, strong or weak,
The author of them, he.

However time may change the scene,
There will be pride to earn.
From boy to graybeard, and between,
Are roles that he must learn.

He'll be the lover; next the groom;
The father; uncle, too;
The mourner in the curtained room;
The man with work to do.

Although the end he never knows
Throughout life's good and ill,
Each man unto the drama's close
Has many roles to fill.

Bank Of America's Founder Dies At 79

San Mateo, Calif., June 3 (AP)—A. P. Giannini, founder and president of the Bank of America, the world's largest bank, died at his home here this morning. He was 79. Giannini founded the Bank of Italy in 1904. It later became the Bank of America, a six billion dollar corporation.

Giannini built his tremendous banking empire on a policy of serving the needs of "The Little Fellow." Bank of America's nearly 500 branches in some 300 California communities serve more than 3,000,000 depositors.

Chapter 3

When they had entered Cougar and were passing the stage station, Connie waved thanks and farewell to Jeff and continued to the blacksmith shop.

Connie sprang lightly to the ground. "Lost a wheel halfway to town. I didn't have a wrench, so I couldn't tighten it. Take care of it for me, will you, L? It's the right rear."

"Sure. How'd you get the wheel back on?"

"A man came along and helped me. Jeff Tyler. Know him?"

"Jeff? Sure. He's a cowboy right down to his hocks and his stock is good. Drove it into the valley himself, too. All white-faces, and a couple of bulls your father'd be proud to own."

"Connie said, 'He was on his way to town to meet his brother.'"

"Un-huh. Brother aims to open a law office and Jeff bought the old feed store and fixed it up for him."

Connie's gaze went to a one-story building across the street. Extending over the sidewalk was a sign which read Glenn Gleason, Attorney-at-Law.

"Gleason! If he's Jeff's brother shouldn't his name be Tyler?"

"Foster-brother. The Tylers adopted him when he was eight. Jeff was sixteen. They educated him to a fare-you-well."

She got up. "I'll walk to the store and have the order put up. Hurry it along, Lew."

Cougar was wild and woolly, all right. As Connie started for the store she brushed elbows with bearded miners, tinhorn gamblers and demi-clad nesters, and expertly dodged several drunks.

Presently she passed a small neat building with an inconspicuous sign which proclaimed it the Miners and Merchants Bank. Her father had established it. His own risk, in such a lawless community, was great; but Job King was a public spirited man, and handling the gold which came from the gulch was a service he felt he owed to his fellow citizens.

The swinging doors of a saloon parted suddenly and a bearded man erupted from within. He glared at her from angry eyes, then switched his gaze to a passing miner.

"You seen Slug Benjamin?"

The man shook his head and the bearded one hurried across the street. She heard him mutter, "The dirty thief robbed me!"

From the far end of the street came a clatter of hoofs and Connie glanced in that direction to see half a dozen horsemen loping into town.

She recognized Chuck Gale and his outfit and immediately experienced an uneasy feeling.

As she reached the store steps they pulled up at the rack out outside and Chuck slipped to the ground. She had no excuse for avoiding him, so smiled pleasantly and said, "Hello, Chuck. I've got to give my order to Mr. Wolfanger. I'm 'way behind schedule." She smiled again and turned to the steps.

"You seen Slug Benjamin?"

The question halted her and she turned. The bearded miner was addressing his question to still another pedestrian.

The store was fairly well filled, so she gave her order to Hank Wolfanger and told him she'd be around for it later, then went outside and started for the blacksmith shop.

She saw the bearded miner crossing the street toward a saloon on its far side.

A man stepped out of the entrance to a tent saloon and the street about him emptied as though he were afflicted with the plague.

The miner broke into a lumbering run. "You low down thief!" he shouted.

There was a flash of flame from the hip of the man on the far side of the street, then a terrifying whee-e-e! so close to Connie's left cheek that she felt the breeze of the bullet in its passage.

Connie felt herself snatched about the waist and thrown violently to the sidewalk, and even as she fell there was another booming shot and she heard again the rush of the slug through the air. Somehow she failed to hear the third shot, and she was dismayed when she saw the bearded miner fall forward on his face and roll to his side.

The marshal grabbed Slug Benjamin, who was protesting that he had shot in self defense.

"Self defense my eye!" roared the marshal. "One of you fellers fetch the doctor for Grubb. Come along, Slug." He started back toward the Town Hall with his prisoner.

Connie sat up and so did the man who had thrown her. Jeff Tyler's face wore the sad and humble expression of a hound dog that has been caught snitching a bone.

"I'm sorry, Miss King," he apologized, "but you were right in line."

"I guess I was excited. Gosh, I feel funny inside," she said.

When she glanced at him again he was intently watching the marshal and his prisoner, who were just passing on their way to the jail. There was a hint of puzzlement in his eyes.

"You know that man, don't you?" she said.

HME started, then looked down at her. "No'm; but I've seen him somewhere before and not in Cougar."

"Here comes the stage now. And you'd better call me Connie. After all, we're neighbors."

He flashed that rare smile of his, then stood eagerly waiting as the stage rolled to a stop. The door opened and a young man alighted. Connie saw a fresh-complexioned face, clean shaven, blonde curly hair and neat attire. Then the two were shaking hands.

"Glenn, doggone you! You're looking like a million dollars!"

"Thanks, Jeff. Same to you."

"Connie shake hands with my brother, Glenn Gleason. With this is Miss Connie King of the Crown ranch."

Glenn stared for a moment, then swept off his hat and bowed low over the fingers Connie gave him.

"This," he said, "is the nicest thing that could have happened. Your humble servant, Miss King."

Chapter 4

The thirteen years which had passed since the Tylers had taken little Glenn Gleason to their bosoms had been years of toil and hardship for father and son. John Tyler, spurred by remorse, went beyond the call of duty to see that the boy had everything he needed for the development of a normal, healthy, happy life.

Nothing was too good for Glenn. John and Jeff worked while he went to school and played. By the time he was ready for college, John Tyler had died.

The whole burden now on him, Jeff redoubled his efforts. He sent the boy to Chicago to study law, and supported him while he was pursuing his studies. And now Glenn was finished with his schooling and in a short time should be self-supporting.

Glenn himself seemed eager to get to work. For over a week he kept close to the office. Jeff rode in occasionally to see how things were going; and now, on the morning of the ninth day, he entered the reception room to find his foster brother with his feet on the desk and his hands clasped behind his head.

"No bites yet?"

"Not even a nibble." Glenn unclasped his fingers and made an impatient gesture. "You'd think at least there'd be a will to draw or a deed to record."

Jeff smiled. "These folks got to be educated; they're not used to having a lawyer around. It never occurs to them to hire somebody unless they can't shoot their way out."

"Like that fellow, Slug Benjamin."

"Slug doesn't need a lawyer. His goose is as good as cooked."

"Maybe." Glenn had shed some of his gloom. "Jeff, I've a good mind to go over to the jail and talk with him."

Jeff grinned at him. "Stick to your knitting and you'll be a big man in this country. . . . How's the bankroll holding out?"

"It isn't. I'm flatter than a flapjack right now."

Jeff took a worn wallet from his pocket, extracted a couple notes and tossed them on the desk before him.

"When that's gone I know where I can get more. Don't be afraid to ask when you need help, fellow. I'm in this with you."

"Thanks, Jeff; I can use it."

"How's Connie?"

Glenn's eyes brightened. "Now you're talking about something! Met her father and mother and had a rather nice time. Gosh, Jeff, I never knew one man could own so many cows."

"The Crown's a big spread, and it'll be Connie's one of these days."

Glenn grinned at him. "What kind of a cattleman would a lawyer make?"

Glenn grinned at him. "What kind of a cattleman would a lawyer make?"

"The very best. Fellow with a brain like yours could plug a great many leaks."

Glenn walked with him to the door and watched as Jeff mounted the sorrel and rode out of town; then he crossed the street to Mike Pacheco's saloon. Glenn changed his twenty dollars into chips and at the end of an hour he was broke.

Glowing he went out and turned towards the Town Hall. The windows of its second story were heavily barred and somewhere behind those bars was Slug Benjamin, awaiting trial. He walked up the steps and entered the place.

"What do you want?" asked a guard. Glenn saw that he was wearing a Colt six-gun and that a riot gun stood close at hand.

"I'm a lawyer," he explained. "I think you have a prisoner here who might need my services. He calls himself Slug Benjamin."

Glenn submitted to a search after which the guard ushered him into a large room fitted with three cells. But one of the cells was occupied.

"Lawyer to see you, Slug," said the guard, and pushed Glenn into the cell.

"My name's Gleason," he said. "I've just opened an office here at Cougar."

The man peered at him. "Gleason, did you say?"

"That's right, Glenn Gleason." Slug continued to stare at him for a moment; then, "What you want me to tell you about?"

"The shooting of that fellow, Grubb."

"It was self defense. How was I to know the danged fool wasn't heeled?"

"Did you make that clear when you were charged with the murder?"

"Yes. But Justice Sam Tolson is a miner himself and had it in for me. He bound me over to the grand jury."

"Have you got any money?"

"What for?"

"I don't work for nothing. And where a man's life is at stake, my fee is large."

Slug stared at him suspiciously. "I got a little," he admitted.

"Oh—five hundred bucks." Glenn got up. "Your life's not worth much, is it? Well, I'll be getting along."

"Wait a minute. Set down." Slug put out a detaining hand. "I might make that a thousand."

"Cash on the barrel head."

"No. Half now, and the other half when I'm free."

"All right." He sat down again.

Slug eyed the open corridor door and lowered his voice. "You go to Mike Pacheco and tell him I sent you for it. Say to him, 'The goose hangs high.' He'll give it to you. Now tell me how you aim to get me off."

"Not now. I've got to lay my plans for your defense first. I'll take it up with you when I have the retainer."

Ten minutes later he entered Mike Pacheco's saloon. Mike was behind the bar, Glenn leaned over and spoke in a low voice.

"I'm Slug Benjamin's lawyer. He told me to come to you for the five hundred dollars of his that you have." Mike simply stared at him, and Glenn added, "He said to tell you the goose hangs high."

"Oh," said Mike. He went into a room behind the bar and came out with a package of banknotes.

"I'll take a hundred of it in chips. This time, I intend to take you to the well-known cleaners."

SAY RUSSIANS MAY BREAK ALL VATICAN LINKS

Washington, June 3 (AP)—State department officials said today Russia may be aiming to break all contacts between the Vatican and Moscow's last "free" Roman Catholic church.

Official reports received here from the Russian capital say Soviet authorities have seized the keys of the Church of St. Louis Franchaise from the resident priest and now exercise physical control of the property.

Speculation that the Soviet action may be intended to remove the church from papal authority is bolstered by the continuing failure of Russian officials to grant an entry permit to an American priest assigned to duty at the church. He has had his request for such a permit on file since last February.

Only One "Free" Church
Officials here say the Russian government may intend eventually to deny use of the church to any priest under the direction of the Pope and may seek instead to install a priest whose contacts with the Vatican have been broken.

Some churches in territory under Communist domination are now operated in that manner, they said.

Information about seizure of the keys was made available here yesterday after Philadelphia Attorney Michael Francis Doyle had reported hearing about the Russian action from the State department.

Doyle, a leading Catholic layman, is a "sponsor" of the Moscow parish, sending funds for its support to Father Thomas, a French priest who is its acting pastor. Doyle said the church is the "only free, open church in the entire Soviet Union."

Turned Over Keys

Diplomatic reports said that about May 13 two unidentified Soviet women and a representative of the Soviet Administration of Religious Cults called on Father Thomas. (The Administration of Religious Cults handles the churches in Russia which are outside the Russian Orthodox church.)

The three informed the priest that they had an order from the Moscow Soviet stating that the two women were representatives of the majority of the congregation. They asked Father Thomas for the keys and he surrendered them.

Since that time, according to the reports here, the priest has been permitted to hold regular services and at least on some occasions has been given access to the church property.

OPPOSE MILK RISE
Philadelphia, June 3 (AP)—Producers in the Philadelphia area have joined with other eastern Pennsylvania groups in opposing an increase in the price of milk July 1. Testimony at a state Milk Control commission hearing yesterday stated there is a surplus of milk and that the cost of feed has been reduced.

Rescue Fishermen After Boat Upsets

Lewes, Del., June 3 (AP)—Three Pennsylvanians are in Beebe hospital here after being rescued from their overturned fishing boat outside the Delaware breakwater.

The three men—Donald Smith, 26; Stewart Reichard, 30, and James Anderson, 37, all of Red Lion, Pa.—were picked up by the pilot boat Cape Henlopen yesterday two hours after their 15-foot boat was capsized by a wave.

The three men had started out earlier on a fishing excursion and were about a half mile from shore when their boat overturned. All were detained at the hospital where doctors said they were suffering from shock and exposure.

REVENUE UP ON TOLL BRIDGES

Harrisburg, June 2 (AP)—Pennsylvania motorists paid $11,451,682 to cross the state's 10 privately owned toll bridges in 1948.

This was $321,775 more than was handed over as tolls in 1946, the last time the state attempted to purchase the spans, only to be halted by a state Supreme Court decision that its plan to use motor funds was unconstitutional.

The new bridge purchase plan, authorized by the 1949 General Assembly, calls for continued collections of tolls until the cost of purchase and other expenses has been paid off or the legislature provides other funds for the retirement of any bonds that are issued.

The voters authorized bonds up to $10,000,000 fifteen years ago but the method was never used. Repeal in 1945 of legislation authorizing the issuance of these bonds stymied any move in this direction until the 1949

FILIPINO LOVER ERASED RIVAL AND 12 OTHERS

Manila, June 3 (AP)—Officials theorized today that a Filipino lover erased his rival by hiring three men to blow up a plane. The craft van-disappeared May 7 with 13 persons aboard. Two of the passengers were Americans.

A dispatch from Daet, takeoff point on the ill-starred flight, said an ex-convict and a youth with a police record had admitted planting a time bomb aboard the Philippine air lines plane.

National bureau of investigation agents said they believe a Filipino hired the two and a third man still at large to blow up the plane. They said the plane carried the husband of the woman he loved.

Paid $92.50 For Job
The agents said the evidence had been turned over to the prosecution.

Reports of the bridge owners to the Public Utility commission show that revenue from tolls totaled $1,129,927 in 1946 and had increased to $1,451,682 last year. Of this, motorists using two spans in Harrisburg paid $872,863, those crossing the Susquehanna river at Sunbury $128,227, and the Charleroi-Monesen bridge, $138,227.

Against this, the bridge owners listed operating expenses totaling $734,117 in 1946 and $969,438 in 1948. Much of the increase was accounted for by increased federal income taxes due to higher revenues.

However, the state faces only charges for toll collectors salaries in addition to bond retirement when it takes over the bridges. The new toll bridge law provides that the cost of upkeep will come from the state's motor fund.

tor at Daet. No formal complaints have been filed.
This is the story the agents told: The two Filipinos said they were paid $92.50 by the lover to get the bomb aboard the plane the husband was to take to Manila.
The escaped convict took a box to the air lines office and had it weighed and tagged. On the way to the airport, the second Filipino switched the tags to another box. This box was aboard the plane.
Agents said the bomb was set to go off 30 minutes after the twin-engine Douglas plane took off.
Find Pilot's Body
The plane left Daet, 140 miles east of Manila, in perfect weather. A short time later all contact with it was lost.

Air line officials in Manila were puzzled. They said the plane was in good trim and was manned by experienced pilots. They suspected kidnapers might have had a hand in the disappearance.
Three days later, fishermen near Alabat Island, 70 miles east of Manila, reported they had seen an explosion in the air on May 7. On May 13, the pilot's body and wreckage washed ashore. The wreckage showed unmistakable signs of an explosion.

It would take about 3,000,000 earths to equal the bulk of the sun. Shower baths were used by the ancient Greeks.

Venetian blind raises, lowers, tilts with single beaded chain control

Here's the most amazing new metal Venetian blind you ever saw!

Pull the one single beaded chain to raise the steel slats. Pull the same beaded chain to lower them. And the same single control tilts the enamelled slats to any position, wide open or closed tight.

No more tugging at two separate controls. No more unsightly cords to fray and tear. Here is the most durable mechanical blind you've ever seen, because it's so simple and mostly of metal.

Gehly's bring this blind to York and nowhere else in York can you buy it. It's made by Columbia, the makers for years of the finest blinds. And what's more, it's the same high Columbia quality, that would cost twice as much in the old style Venetian blinds. Mechanical ingenuity brings you a Venetian blind far superior to any other, at half the regular price.

You can see and try this new Columbia Rol-A-Matic blind at Gehly's anytime. But rather than wait until your next shopping trip to York, why not have Gehly's send your blinds direct to your home? Merely check the sizes you wish on the order blank below and mail. Outside Gehly's delivery zones, your blinds will come by mail. Don't wait, order while first factory deliveries are still complete. Mail your order now. Try one of these new blinds in a single window and you'll replace all others in time.

Single metal chain does all

This picture shows how simple this new Venetian blind really is. The single chain pull does all . . . raises, lowers, tilts, closes. And all operations are concentrated at one single point, either right or left to suit your convenience. Because the blind mechanism is so simple it will last longer, chain pull will never fray or soil.

EXPLAINS 'SMOG' DEATHS OF 22

Charleston, W. Va., June 3 (AP)—Dr. J. C. Townsend, chief of the Industrial Hygiene Division of the U. S. Public Health Service, last night told how "smog" killed 22 persons last October in Donora, Pa.

Dr. Townsend spoke before the 25th Annual State Health Conference sponsored by the West Virginia Public Health association.

The Donora tragedy, he said, was caused by the "hemming in" of a cold layer of air near the earth's surface by a blanket of warm air.

The blanket failed to lift, he said, before too great a concentration of contaminants was reached.

By "contaminants," Dr. Townsend explained, he meant fumes released by industrial plants.

"There is no room or call for hysteria about atmospheric pollution," the speaker said, adding: "The situation can be corrected only through an enlightened, understanding desire on the part of the public to take the necessary steps. Through such an unemotional, reasoning approach to the air pollution problem, each locality can go far in working toward a brighter tomorrow."

Reports Reds Gain North China Port

Shanghai, June 3 (AP)—A reliable source said today Chinese Communists had occupied Tsingtao, the North China port which until recently was the anchorage for the U. S. Western Pacific fleet.

U. S. ships and personnel pulled out of Tsingtao several days ago.

The informant said the Chinese Nationalist Navy also had withdrawn and the Communists took over the city and port without a fight. It was the last city held by the Nationalists in northeast China.

AMERICAN BANKING IN ACTION

IT'S YOUR MONEY

You have the right to boss your own money. You can spend it all, give it away, or bank some of it for the future. But you make your own decision. Maybe you take for granted this right to spend or save. Some people do. But let's remember that it's a right we enjoy because we live under the free enterprise system—the American way. In a communistic country, you would have to spend every cent to keep alive.

YOU ARE YOUR OWN HARVEST CREW WHEN YOU OWN A MASSEY-HARRIS Self-Propelled Clipper

... And that alone takes a big slice out of production costs. Think of it a moment. You, yourself, handling the work of 4 or 5 men. No binding expense, no bundle pitching, no threshing rental, no crew to feed... less work for the entire family at harvest time. You know, too, that when production cost goes down, profit goes up. But take the grain itself. When you harvest with the S.P. Clipper you get cleaner grain... and more of it. The Clipper has big capacity... as much as some 10-ft. machines—the result of 3-point construction. Full 7-ft. cut, 5-ft. rasp bar cylinder, straight thru separation. And big capacity means that you spend fewer hours bringing in your grain... there's valuable time left for other jobs. Or extra profits from doing custom work for your neighbors. Join the ranks of cost-wise farmers who now enjoy the freedom and independence of being their own "harvest boss." See us about a Massey-Harris S.P. Clipper for your farm.

CIO Threatens Strike Of 2,000 Workers At Huge Atomic Production Plant

WOULD STOP PRODUCTION OF URANIUM 235

Oak Ridge, Tenn., June 3 (AP)—A strike of 2,000 workers in a huge atomic production plant is planned for next Thursday.

If the strike comes off, it will stop production of uranium 235 in one of the largest industrial plants in the world. U-235 is the fissionable element that goes into atomic bombs.

A CIO union voted last night to strike and asked its international headquarters for authorization.

At Washington, President Martin Wagner, of the United Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers (CIO) said the union's officers would take up the Oak Ridge local's strike resolution today. Wagner indicated a decision would be announced after the meeting.

Ask Wage Increase
The union asked a 15-cent hourly wage increase when negotiations began seven weeks ago for a new contract to begin June 9.

A counter-proposal that wages be reduced six cents was made by Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corp., operator of all Oak Ridge atomic installations for the Atomic Energy commission. The CIO employees' average wage is $1.59.

J. A. George, president of the union's Local 288, said the strike resolution was passed in two union meetings attended by 600 members. The resolution asserted that "negotiations have produced no results" and asked that the committee be empowered to call a strike.

Can Ask Injunction
President Truman is empowered under the Taft-Hartley act to seek an injunction to prohibit a strike during an 80-day arbitration period. Such an injunction was applied in a similar dispute between Carbide and an AFL union here more than a year ago.

Another is procedure to settle strike threats in vital AEC operations proposed by a special commission headed by former War Labor Board Chairman William Davis.

The CIO employees are production workers at the gaseous diffusion atomic process plant, a unit that cost about $500,000,000 to build in wartime.

Pious Note Thanks Owners For Loot

Columbus, Ohio, June 3 (AP)—A hungry burglar who visited an east side home today thanked his victims with a pious note.

Mrs. Virginia Clark said when she came home she found the uninvited guest had cooked a chicken, whipped up some potatoes and drank two bottles of beer. Pans were piled in the sink. On the stove, untouched, was a pot of ham and beans.

A note lay on the table. It read: "Kind people: As I passed by tired and hungry, I found your home open and bade myself 'welcome.'"

CONGRESSMEN TO PLAY BALL

Washington, June 3 (AP)—The Democrats play the Republicans tonight in their annual Congressional baseball game.

And experts—the same ones who said that Dewey would be our next President—predict a first class, well played contest.

The Democrats won last year, by an estimated 24-11. They would be favored to repeat, except that Rep. Wheeler (D-Ga.) has been feeling poorly.

Wheeler is a good pitcher, by Congressional standards. In fact, he was about the only pitcher on either team who could get the ball over last year.

So if Chief Justice Vinson shows any control on his opening pitch, he's liable to have steady work on the mound. The Republican situation is somewhat vague. Rep. Bishop (R-Ill.) a former tailor, coal miner, telephone lineman and pro baseball player, manages the Republicans. And he craftily has refused to give any hint of his starting pitcher, if any.

$150,000 BLAZE

Philadelphia, June 3 (AP)—A $150,000 fire ruined two one-story buildings, a storage yard and a large quantity of equipment of a cheese distributing center at 56th and Arch streets last night. The blaze swept a wagon storage yard and a cabinet warehouse of Abbotts Dairies and a garage of N. P. O'Connor, cheese distributor for the dairy.

The name "Thule" was applied at different times in antiquity to Norway and to Iceland. All the raw materials used in the making of fine American handmade glass are found in the United States.

LUCAS FAVORS AMENDMENT OF REPEALER BILL

Washington, June 3 (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois came out today for some amendment of the Truman Administration's bill for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act.

In the first official indication that President Truman's hard-pressed forces in the Senate are ready to support a compromise in a last-minute effort to win votes, Lucas said in an interview:

"In principle, I approve of some amendments." He wouldn't go into detail.

Truman Opposes Compromise

His statement came as the Senate's disrupted Democrats gathered behind closed doors for what might be an all-day conference on labor legislation. The Senate itself starts its labor debate Monday.

Mr. Truman himself stoutly maintained that he opposes any compromise. The CIO and AFL have announced they aren't dead set against all amendments, but they say they will never agree to anti-strike injunctions.

The administration measure—which would replace Taft-Hartley with a modified Wagner Act—was compromised in the House, but lost anyhow. The compromise, introduced by Rep. Sims (D-SC) with the vigorous backing of Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.), added a few Taft-Hartley provisions to the Truman bill, including 90-day injunctions in national emergency strikes.

May Write New Bill
Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) told a reporter today he favors "some such measure" as the Sims' bill.

He added, however, that he is "open-minded" concerning the national emergency provision and might be persuaded to support some kind of plant-seizure proposal instead of the 90-day Taft-Hartley injunctions.

Meanwhile a non-Communist provision was expected to be proposed today at the Democratic conference. Lucas said there would be no attempt to bind the Democrats to vote for anything.

Apparently the leadership's plan was to sound out all the Democrats, and write a new bill that would capture as many votes as possible.

Beheading was formerly considered an honorable form of execution.

CANDIDATE—Jose P. Laurel, Japan's puppet president of the Philippines during war time, has been nominated for Philippine president by the minority Nacionalista party.

Loan Available If Teachers Are Fired

Pottsville, Pa., June 3 (AP)—The Cass Township school board will be able to get a $24,000 emergency loan from the state to meet its teacher payroll for April and May provided nine teachers are dismissed.

This was disclosed by members of the board as they met to discuss the loan stipulations made by the state. Other conditions asked by the state are increases in the per capita tax and submission of the 1949-50 school budget to the state.

Fifteen teachers at the township high school went on strike for three days last month because they had not been paid for several weeks. The school board will decide which teachers are to be let out.

FIND MISSING ATOMIC BOTTLE IN WASTE BOX

Washington, June 3 (AP)—A missing atomic bottle has been found, but the search goes on for some of the uranium-235 which was in it.

Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) made that announcement yesterday as his Senate-House atomic energy committee adjourned, probably until Monday, its hearings into charges of "incredible mismanagement" made against David E. Lillenthal by Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa).

Lillenthal heads the Atomic Energy Commission, whose Argonne National Laboratory in Chicago missed the bottle of fissionable material last February. It contained an ounce of U-235, seven-eighths of which has been recovered.

Charge "Negligence"
McMahon said the commission's general manager, Carroll Wilson, had reported to the committee that the missing bottle was dug out of a large steel box of waste material in the Argonne Laboratory's special radio-active "burial ground."

The uranium apparently had been spilled from the bottle, after which the container was discarded. It was all due to "carelessness and negligence," McMahon said.

Besides pressing its inquiry into the matter of the still-missing eighth-ounce of U-235, he said, the joint committee is branching out in its investigation of the commission to find out why construction of a secret atomic installation is costing three times the original $7,000,000 estimate.

Wants Lillenthal Fired

The installation, located at Hanford, Wash., is being built by the General Electric Corp.

The Congressional committee, at the instigation of Hickenlooper, its former chairman, is conducting a broadside probe of the Atomic Commission's management under Lillenthal. Hickenlooper has demanded Lillenthal be fired.

The second face-to-face meeting between the two yesterday produced bitter, angry questioning and testimony as the Iowa senator sought to demonstrate that the commis-

Waterloo, Ont., June 3 (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Ebert of Shenandoah, Pa., and her brother, John Doerfler, are enjoying a reunion for the first time in 56 years.

READ EVERY WORD...ACT NOW!

For millions of men and women, the above symptoms can be Nature's emergency warnings that the body is having difficulty in ridding itself of the intestinal wastes that must be eliminated... regularly and completely. Many doctors know that it is quite possible to be slowly poisoned by faulty elimination. Clinical tests show that if you have faulty elimination, the waste back up in your "Danger Zone" (the large intestine) where they can become purged and poisonous. The longer these wastes stay in your intestinal tract, the greater their danger of danger to your system. In an amazingly short length of time, you can become the victim of "self-poisoning." Keep intestinal wastes moving out of your "Danger Zone" by using this new, safe, all-natural remedy!

WORLD IN LONG STRUGGLE OVER OPPOSITE IDEAS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
This column expressed the view yesterday that the dangers of world war have receded greatly in recent months, but pointed out that this doesn't mean the struggle between Democracy and Communism is drawing to a close.

Far from it: The fight will continue along ideological lines indefinitely. Support for the Thesis of a protracted and bitter battle of ideas comes from General Lucius D. Clay, who, as former U. S. military governor in Germany, has been in one of the hottest spots of the conflict. The general, speaking at Columbia university in New York, declared that "there remains ahead of us for years to come a struggle between those who promise equal economic return and security that cannot be provided to the person without surrendering individual rights and life under control of the state, and those who believe in Democracy, which should provide for equal opportunity, social advance and social progress."

Fierce Struggle In Germany
So far as Germany is concerned the ideological struggle will continue to be fierce because of that country's strategic position in Central Europe. This of course will be nothing new for the Germans, because the Reich was one of the first nations in which the Soviet comintern launched a Red offensive.

Hitler's rise to power later was due in no small degree to his fight against Communism, despite the fact that he finally signed with Russia the non-aggression pact which made it possible for him to launch his war of aggression in '39.

The sensational fire which destroyed the German Reichstag in 1933 was laid at the door of a Dutch Communist, Marinus Van Der Lubbe. He was found guilty by the Supreme court and beheaded, although many foreign observers thought the Nazis set the fire themselves for propaganda purposes. Hitler drove the Communists underground, but they still kept up their operations. When I was in Germany just before the war the Reds were spreading their message by printed matter which was shoved under office doors during the hours of darkness by an army of secret workers.

Since those days the Communist world revolution has struck in many countries, with particular attention to the United States as leader of the Democracies. There is no Communist government which has the support of all the people whom it rules. However, counting the Soviet Union and its Satellite countries, Moscow probably has control of more than 300,000,000 people.

How many of these folks are Communists is a matter of speculation. Only a tiny percentage of Russia's inhabitants belong to the party.

Taking the world as a whole there is no lack of material to feed the fire of ideological struggle. As a matter of fact, quite apart from Communism, much of our globe is undergoing politico-social upheavals of one sort or another. For instance, who would have thought five years ago that England today would be under an all-out Socialist government?

However, the revolutionary ideollogy is Communism, which works by strong-arm methods. Moreover it is out to destroy all other ideologies—a powerful challenge to Democratic governments and one which can be met only by concrete and constructive ideals.
